

In Dialogue are an unstoppable force on new single "Peace of Mind"

14.04.2023

The world of music is constantly evolving, with new sounds and talents emerging every day. However, it is rare to come across a collaboration that truly captures the essence of creativity and talent. When two highly skilled musicians come together, it can create something truly special, and that is exactly what we are presented with on "Peace Of Mind" from "In Dialogue" a Southern Germany duo who are produced by DH Records, Birmingham.

Laura M is an experienced songwriter and guitarist who has dedicated her life to perfecting her craft. Her extensive training and passion for music are showcased beautifully on "Peace of Mind" and throughout the entire album. On the other hand, Dominic is a multi-instrumentalist with a unique musical flair, playing the guitar, trumpet, flugelhorn, and flute.

"Peace of Mind" is a simple song in terms of structure, but it is filled with heartfelt conviction, relatable emotions, and high-level songwriting as is the entire album of "Change."

Laura's vocals complement the instrumental perfectly, while Dominic's background settings keep the listener hooked. The combination of Laura's soft and elegant vocals and Dominic's exceptional musical abilities is nothing short of captivating. The song offers tones of Indie, Folk and even some Country notes.

Laura's personal maturity is evident in her vocal expression, having studied linguistics and spent extended periods abroad. She received intensive guitar coaching from jazz guitarist Derek Crehan during her studies in Nottingham, which is clearly reflected in her playing.

Dominic's music studies, orchestral and jazz background, and multi-instrumentalist abilities are responsible for the sophisticated arrangements and the symbiosis of music and lyrical content on the album. He creates strong moods with his use of the flute, trumpet, and flugelhorn, in addition to his guitar playing.

After some years of participation in Europe Spirit Music Project, this undeniable songwriting team now gets produced by the British Birmingham based label DH Records. The collaboration of these two talents is a testament to the power of music and how it can bring people together to create something truly special. In conclusion, "Peace Of Mind" and the album "Change" is a must-listen for anyone who appreciates exceptional musicianship and heartfelt songwriting. The combination of Laura M and Dominic's unique abilities creates a sound that is both refreshing and well needed in today's industry. The album is a true testament to the power of music and how it can bring together people from different backgrounds to create something magical.
